In presenting the 45th Annual Catalogue, the new firm Wm. Evans Seed Co., beg to thank their numerous friends and customers for the kind patronage so generously extended to their predecessor for nearly half a century, and to solicit a continuance of the same, which they hope to merit, by furnishing Seeds of the same high quality and suitableness to our Canadian soil and climate as those heretofore supplied by the old house, and by prompt attention to orders which shall be filled with the greatest care and with despatch by experienced and reliable hands.

We may mention further, that Mr. Wm. Evans has kindly consented to assist the new firm as far as possible daily by his presence and advice. The selection of our Seeds and the preparation of the Catalogue this season has again been done under his own personal advice and supervision, and it is with pleasure that we present our patrons with a portrait of Mr. Evans on the cover of our Catalogue, as a further proof of his endorsement, and recommendation of our new firm as his successors.

HINTS TO CUSTOMERS ORDERING GOODS.

Correspondents are requested to write their name and P. O. address very distinctly with every order, and to indicate the exact manner in which they wish the shipment of goods to be made, whether by Mail, Express or Freight, by Rail or by Boat, and the Station to which the goods are to be sent. When these instructions are omitted or are insufficient, we shall ship by the route that appear to us the most advantageous for our customers, at their risk. But, whilst declining all responsibility after the goods have been shipped, I shall always be glad to help our friends to trace and forward strayed shipments and to substantiate their claims for damages in case of injury to goods. Send in your orders as early as possible. The favor of your kind recommendation of the House to those of your friends requiring Seeds for the Garden or Farm, is respectfully requested.

Any one to whom this Catalogue may be addressed and who may not require it, will oblige us by handing it to some neighbor who may wish to order Seeds.

In this division of my Catalogue will be found everything really desirable in vegetables. While many old things have been discarded, useful varieties have been retained and new varieties, having specially valuable features, have been added.

ASPARAGUS.

Culture.—Sow the seed as early as the ground may be ready, about one inch deep, and when sufficiently advanced thin the plants to six inches apart; when a year old, plant two feet apart, both ways, in small garden. In large plantations where a horse is required to cultivate, the rows should be three feet apart, with plants two feet apart in the row.

Argenteuil.

Connover's Colossal.

A well known and widely cultivated variety. Per pkt. 5c., oz. 10c., 2 oz. 15c., $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. 20c., 1 lb. 40c.

Asparagus is one of our earliest vegetables and one of the most easily grown, and as its delicious qualities are so well known, it ought to have a place in every garden, however small.

The ground for Asparagus should be thoroughly prepared and made as rich as possible at the first. A cool moist, rather sandy soil is what suits Asparagus best, though it succeeds in any good garden soil. A good heavy annual dressing of salt in the fall, with some coarse manure that may be raked off in spring, will be amply repaid by the increased yield. A bed of a hundred plants will furnish a supply for an ordinary family.

Plants supplied of the above varieties at $1.25 per 100.

On every possible occasion, the beds should be opened in order to give all the air possible to render the plants stout and stocky. Plants of this character will, when planted early in May, make a good stand and a satisfactory start and growth. Early varieties may be planted two feet apart or less. Late sorts require two and a half between the plants. Repeated cultivation with the hoe, keeping the ground loose and moist, will insure a good vigorous growth. The ground can hardly be made too rich for cabbages and cauliflower.

MUSHROOMS.

MUSHROOM SPAWN.

Directions for growing Mushrooms.—A quantity of stable manure should be collected, the less straw in it the better, and thrown together in a heap to ferment and acquire heat. As the heat is generally violent at first, it should, previously to making the bed, be reduced to the proper temperature by frequently turning it during a fortnight or three weeks, which time it will require for all parts to get into an even state of fermentation. During this time, should the weather be showery the heap will require some protection, which may be afforded by covering with litter, as too much wet would deaden its fermenting qualities. When the fiery heat has passed off choose a dry sheltered spot of ground on which to make the bed (any cellar or shed will do). Mark this out five feet broad; make the length according to the quantity of mushrooms required. On the space marked for making the bed, throw out a trench about six inches deep. The mould may be laid regularly at the side, and if good, will do for earthing the bed afterwards. In this trench lay about four inches of good long litter for forming the bottom of the bed; then lay on the prepared dung regularly over the surface, beating it down with a fork, gradually drawing in the sides, to the height of five feet until it is narrow at the top like the ridge of a house. In this state it may remain ten days or a fortnight, during which time the temperature should be ascertained towards the middle of the bed, and when found of a gentle heat the bed may be spawned, for which purpose the spawn, if in bricks, should be broken into pieces about an inch and a half or two inches square, beginning within six inches of the bottom of the bed, and in lines about eight inches apart, the same distances being allowed between the pieces of spawn, which are best put in by one hand raising the manure up a few inches, whilst with the other, the spawn can be laid in and covered at the same time. After spawning the bed, if the heat is regular it may be earthed over. After the surface is leveled with the back of the spade, there should be laid on two inches of mould which should be beaten closely together, and when finished, covered a foot thick with good oat or wheat straw, over which, if in the open ground, mats should be laid on to keep the bed dry. When the bed is to remain permanently a covered shed will be found convenient.

MUSTARD.

CHINESE MUSTARD.

The white mustard is used in its youngest state in salads. Very often it is only used in the seed leaf: frequently repeated sowings, require to be made consequently. When further advanced but still young and tender, it makes very nice greens, used as spinach, but the Chinese large cabbage leaved is better for that purpose.

ONION.

The number of varieties of this extensively grown vegetable is very great. They differ widely in season, color, size and quality. Not more than five or six kinds, however, are grown for our own market.

Some of the lately introduced, very large sorts, require to be started in hot beds, our season not being long enough to bring them to perfection. Those kinds requiring to be grown in this way are indicated in my catalogue. I take the greatest pains to secure seed of this most important vegetable of the best quality, and what I offer is of the most reliable character; and has been grown for me by the same grower for the past forty years.

TOBACCO.

To grow Tobacco to the best advantage in this Province, it would be absolutely necessary to start the young plants so early as to have them of a good size to plant out by the first of June. If possible, a hot bed should be used and the seed sown in beginning of April, but if this should not be convenient, then a bed should be prepared beforehand, say in the fall, on a bit of dry, well sheltered ground, and fully exposed to the sun—close to the dwelling house—and so arranged that the bed could be covered on cold nights in early spring. On this the seed should be very thinly sown in rows six inches apart, and very slightly covered. The small varieties of Tobacco may be planted two and a half feet apart in rows three feet apart, and the large kinds three and a half to four feet apart. The after care would consist chiefly in keeping the ground clean by frequent hoeing, disbudding, topping and keeping down the worms which prey upon the plant.

TURNIPS.

Early Turnips for the table should be sown as soon as the ground is quite dry in Spring, in good rich soil. In poor soil Turnips become woody and tough. One useful feature in Turnips, if not required for early use, they can be sown up to end of July, excepting Swedes, which may be sown up to the first of June, and with special fertilizers, even later, some of the very early quick growing sorts may be safely sown in good soil with a special fertilizer up to tenth of August. Aberdeens and Swedes for table use should not be sown early, as they are apt to become woody or stringy. Sown late with a special fertilizer and kept thoroughly tilled, the roots will reach the highest degree of quality.

GRASSES.

When the character of our climate is considered and the necessity that exists for feeding stock indoors for five or six months of the year, we can appreciate the value of the grass crop on which we have to depend for pasturage and for forage during the whole winter ; it will be seen that it is by far the most important crop in this country and claims the farmers' best attention. Of our cultivated grasses, timothy holds the first place. It is, however, very difficult to over estimate the importance to a farmer of a good selection of grass seeds for the various purposes of stock feeding. For mowing, or for permanent pastures, or as an alternate crop, it is a well established fact that a mixture of only two or three kinds of grass or clover will produce a smaller quantity of hay, than can be obtained by sowing a larger number of kinds together, we limit our mixture to a few sorts and do not reach the most profitable results. In a piece of land seeded with one or two favorite grasses only, small vacant places will be found, which in the aggregate will diminish very considerably the yield of an acre.

For permanent pasture it is highly important that such sorts should be selected, as blossom at different periods, in order to secure as far as possible a luxuriant growth during the whole season. A large number of sorts will ensure a much denser growth than the same number of seeds of one or two sorts.

Mixtures of grasses will be furnished for every purpose for which they may be required and parties requiring mixture of grasses may rely upon their orders receiving my personal and careful attention.

The following named grasses comprise the leading kinds. When large quantities are required special prices will be given.

Agrostis Vulgaris (Dispar) Red-Top. Succeeds well in almost all soils.

Per lb. 20c.

The seeds composing this mixture are selected with the greatest care from the most suitable grasses for our Canadian climate and produce the best results, and if the directions given below are carefully followed a beautiful velvety lawn may be formed.

Directions for preparing and sowing Lawns.

To form a good close velvety turf is sometimes a difficult matter and careful proportion of the ground proposed to be laid down for a lawn is necessary. This should be commenced by draining, if necessary, and digging to the depth of from 6 to 12 inches, according to the nature of the soil; the surface must be made entirely level and firm with a heavy roller, and afterwards carefully raked to remove stones, etc. The greatest care should be taken to give a uniform foundation at a uniform depth and to make the upper six inches everywhere the same and of uniform structure of a good garden soil. When prepared in this way, there should be no uneven spots, hills or hollows, which disfigures many lawns. and take a variety of tints in different parts; if the land is stony a supply of good mould should be spread over it to the depth of 2 or 3 inches and the whole thoroughly enriched with well rotted manure.

After the ground has been made thoroughly fine and clean, a heavy roller should again be used to make it perfectly level, it should then be raked and the seed sown, about 45 lbs. being required to seed an acre or arpent.

When the grass has well taken, it can only be kept in good order by repeated mowing and rolling occasional top dressing and cleaning with a lawn rake.—Continued on next page.

GRASSES. — Continued.

Directions for preparing and sowing Lawns.

It will sometimes happen that annual weeds, indigenous to the soil, come up, these can be checked if not destroyed by moving them off as soon as they make their appearance ; dandelions and daisies too, will often appear and these may be cut up, each one singly, about an inch below the surface.

For lawns requiring improvement, it is only necessary to sow fresh seed at the rate of about 20 lbs. an acre, either in the Spring or Autumn ; in this country, Spring sowing will answer best, using a small tooth rake and rolling afterwards.

Moss in lawns is generally a sign of poorness in the soil or want of drainage ; to effect its removal, rake off as much of the moss as possible, apply a top dressing of quick lime and rich compost, and sow more seed in Spring. On croquet grounds where turf has become bare through constant use, a thick sowing of seeds on the bare spots previously stirred up early in the Spring, with the subsequent rolling, will be found very beneficial. A slight dressing of fine manure over the whole ground late in the fall will greatly assist the growth of the finer kinds of grass, and help to produce a close growing turf. Mowing alone will not ensure a good bottom, it should also have the compression which a roller only can give.

MILLETS.

Annual forage plants valuable for green fodder and hay, in from sixty to ninety days from the seed, producing on good soils a large yield of excellent forage, highly relished by stock. All the varieties should be cut in the blossom. Sow from one half to three quarters of a bushel per acre.

Prices vary with the market.

Common Millet. (Panicum Miliaceum).

Very early ; height three feet ; foliage broad and very abundant ; heads very open, branching panicles ; seeds, glossy, oval ; somewhat flattened.

White French Millet.

Early ; height from three to five feet. Spikes numerous, seeds large, round, pure white.

Hungarian Grass. (Panicum Germanicum).

Early ; height, from two to three feet ; abundant foliage and slender heads ; withstands drought and yields well on light soils,

Wild Rice.

For seeding lake or lagoons. Per lb 25c., in 10 lbs. lots 20c.

Culture. — Sow in water from six inches to five or six feet deep. Soft black mud bottom preferred, but must be mud. Work the bottom over carefully and pick out the best places. Sow as you would any grain. Where pond lilies grow, it will begin to grow the day it is sown. Avoid a windy day, the rice being light. After being on the water a few minutes, it gets wet and sinks to the bottom. If sown in a river, avoid the current as much as possible, sow in bays or lagoons. The rice is self sower in the fall ; the seeds drop off when ripe and the old stalks sink to the bottom, decompose and make manure for the seed. Samples of this grass can be seen at this office.

WHITE MARROW CABBAGE.

We introduced this plant five years ago at the instance of some of the members of the Agricultural Clubs, and it gave entire satisfaction. It partakes of the character of both a Kohl rabi and Cabbage. The plant grows to three and four feet in height and the stalk thickens gradually from the root to the middle to about three inches, so that the whole stock is like a greatly elongated Kohl rabi; the bunch of leaves on the top, furnishes a very large weight of succulent forage per acre, which may be used in late summer and fall. Per oz. 20c.

FLOWER SEED DEPARTMENT.

For the convenience and help of any who may desire to attempt any special effects, but who may not be fully acquainted with the different classes of plants. We have given lists of plants of the several colors, with heights, so that an intelligent choice may be made by any one.

Descriptive General List

CHOICE ❖ FLOWER ❖ SEEDS.

SELECTION OF VARIETIES.—Success in flower culture depends, quite largely, upon a judicious selection of varieties. Every sort we offer is, under certain conditions, attractive and desirable, but some of them, while exceedingly beautiful under certain circumstances, will be most unsatisfactory under others; we therefore urge our friends to study carefully the lists offered when ordering, that they may select the sorts best suited to their wants.

THE SOIL.—Best adapted to flowering plants generally, is a light, friable loam, containing a sufficiency of sand to render it porous. Most flowers are better if produced on plants of vigorous growth, the greater portion of the garden, then, should be prepared by deep digging, and liberally enriched with well rotted manure. As the process of germination is shorter or longer in the different kinds of seeds, the patience of the cultivator is often sorely tried with seeds which germinate slowly.

Nine-tenths of the failures in flower culture come from improper treatment of the seeds and young plants, and we urge every purchaser of our seeds to study carefully the cultural directions printed on the package, and keep in mind the following golden rules for sowing flower seeds:

Make the surface as fine as possible.

Do not sow any of the seeds when the ground is at all wet.

Cover each lot of seeds to a uniform dept, which should never be more than three or four times the diameter of the seeds.

Press the soil firmly over the seed.

Sow in rows that the young plants can be easily seen, and pull up all weeds which spring up between the rows the day they appear, but do not pull any plants out of the row until you are sure they are weeds.

FREEMAN'S POULTRY SUPPLIES.

Ground Beef Scraps.—These Scraps consist of the trimmings and tallow collected daily from the Butcher Markets. After being rendered and pressed they are ground to proper size for poultry. There is no waste in feeding the Scraps, as the fowls can consume every particle.

Animal Meal.—We are now manufacturing animal meal. It consists mostly of Bone and Meat, ground together; it is used to mix with soft feed. Many Poultrymen mix up shorts or middlings with meal and hot water every morning. Our Animal Meal is just the thing to go with it, being finely ground, and is dry and sweet.  Good for young chicks. Makes bone, muscle and feathers, and it is just what you need.

Egg Producer.—This is compounded from a receipt for egg production used by the most successful poultry raisers. It is not a stimulant but real EGG FOOD, and is, without doubt, the best animal food in existence for laying hens.

Granulated Bone.—This is broken up the right size, and furnishes lime and other substances so necessary to form shells and eggs, and should be kept constantly before the fowls, especially if kept in confinement.

Bone Flour.—This is as fine as flour, and if mixed with soft feed once or twice a week it will keep the fowls in good condition, and it is especially good for growing chicks.

Oyster Shells constantly on hand, by the ton and bag.

These Goods are delivered ex. factory, orders are solicited, and will be filled with first-class goods.

Matthews' Garden Seed Drill.

I know no hand Garden Seed Drill for sowing vegetable seeds, etc., which has met with the popularity of the Matthews' Garden Seed Drill among leading seedsmen and market gardeners everywhere, and therefore heartily recommend it to my customers.

It is designed for use in field or garden. When in operation it opens the furrows, drops the seed accurately at the desired depth, covers it, and at the same time, marks the next row, it will sow, Beet, Carrot, Onion, Turnip, Parsnip, Sage, Spinach, Sorghum, Peas, Beans, Fodder-Corn, etc., with a certainty, regularity and rapidity impossible for the most accurate hand to do.

A valuable feature in this drill is its patent INDICATOR with names of different seeds on it for adjusting the drill to sow different kinds of seeds, which is done by simply turning the indicator until the name of the seed you wish to sow comes to the top. No other drill is furnished with this ingenious device. The drill is complete in all arrangements, and is made of the best material throughout.—PRICES $10.00, BOXED.

CAHOON'S

Broad Cast Seed Sower.

It consists of a light sheet iron work, with a canvas bag or hopper surrounding it which holds about half a bushel of seed. It is suspended by a strap from the operator's neck, and held in position by a strap around the waist. The grain falls through an opening that can be graduated as to the quantity sown per acre, and is discharged through a flanged mouth or spout. The seed is thrown from 9 to 10 feet on each side of the operator. The machine, at a common walking gait, sows 4 to 8 acres per hour.— Price, $4.00.

The "Planet Jr." No. 11 Double Wheel Hoe.

This tool, has 11 inch wheels, which can be set at four different distances apart : the frame is malleable, with ample room for tool adjustment, and can be set at three different heights. The handles are adjustable and, being attached to the arch, are entirely undisturbed in making changes of the height of frame, width of wheels or in the adjustment of the tools themselves. The arch is of stiff steel unusually high. All changes of tools to be made without removal of the nuts from the standards. A pair of model rakes and a pair of new style hoes are added to the usual equipment — seven pairs of tools in all. The whole set shown in the cut goes with the complete tool. All the blades are of tempered and polished steel. PRICE, complete, $8.00. Without rakes, small hoes and leaf lifters, $6.00. With one pair of 6 inch hoes only, $4.00.

Kreamer's Improved Hen's Nest.

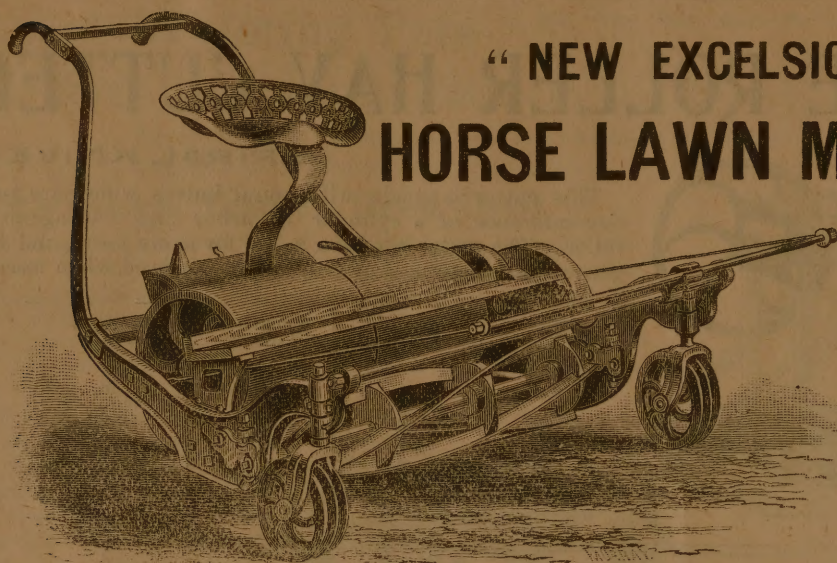

Patented April 11th 1885.

The Cut A represents the complete nest with door open. The cut B represents a series of nests. This lately patented nest is in the form of an ordinary hen's nest, in the bottom of which is an artificial nest egg, in the centre of the nest in an opening; the egg as soon as laid falls into a drawer provided with a cushion pad and rolls slowly inside. In this way several hens may lay one after the other in the same nest, without the eggs being exposed to be broken.
